. and now we are on the outside. The door of mandatory education has closed, releasing us from the protective restrictions that have dictated our actions or required our conformity. Abington Heights is now a reference to our past. A good past. But the Class of '68 is graduated.

"What are you thinking about?" "Nothing."

That is as much as I want you to know about me. That is all I care for you to see

How often do we hide our thoughts from what we assume to be the mocking public, by replying "Nothing"? Too often we are guilty of burying our thinking because we ignore the necessity of communication. And what is peace but an understanding? Total Communication

Peace through Understanding Let this, then, be our dedication. May each of us realize our values and standards, and may each of us promote them. Now, as individuals, we must extend our degree of understanding beyond the walls of high school. We must face real problems. It's time to eliminate unfounded prejudices, the lack of concern, the answer "Nothing". Because we represent something, the powerful class of 1968. And now I challenge you to find peace. Communicate and you will understand. Understand and you will find peace. Offer one hand of assistance, be determined to contribute your beliefs toward a better world.

Individual Peace leads to United Peace.

Exchange

MARK STEWART

Mark Stewart, one of our four exchange students to Abington, comes to us from Nuneaton, Warwickshire, England, about which he comments that there isn't much fog. He is one of three children; his brother is a professional soldier and his younger sister is a student.

He tells us that bermuda shorts are non-existent and bikinis are bounteous in his Mother Country. Jolly good luck to you, Mark, upon your return, and we wish you a successful future.

Altagracia Villaman, familiar to us as Grace, adds a sparkling zest to our Senior Class from San Francisco de Macoris, in the Dominican Republic. She has four sisters and brothers in her family, Grace being the eldest.

She has been graduated from school and plans to further her studies in the field of Chemistry. She finds Pennsylvania winters inclement and said that she's afraid that she will turn into a "piece of ice".

Good luck to her when she goes back to the Dominican Republic.

ANTONIA ALTAGRACIA VILLAMAN CRUZ

Students

José was born December 13, 1950 in Sátillio, Coahuila, Mexico. He has one brother and one sister. His father is a businessman in the town in which his family lives.

In Mexico he attended the Instituto Tecnológico de Coahuila. His travels have taken him through the U.S. and many cities of Mexico. In the United States, José finds that there is not as much response to parties and dances as in his country.

José has been a friendly and popular exchange student, and we are certain that he will succeed in all that he attempts upon returning to Mexico.

JOSE ALFONSO LAGUARDIA

JORGE ALFREDO GUZMAN MIRANDA

Jorge comes to us from Quito, Ecuador and was born there on the eighth of November in 1949. Throughout his life he has travelled to the United States, Colombia, and Peru. He attended the Cardinal Spellman School in Quito, where he studied fifteen subjects.

Like most Exchange Students from South America, the greatest difference Jorge finds is the weather. He says, "the climate in Ecuador is the best in the world!".

Fun-loving, thoughtful, and well-liked, we will miss Jorge and hope that he succeeds in achieving his goal of being a mineralogist when he goes back home.

The example of America must be the example not merely of peace because it will not fight, but of peace because peace is the healing and elevating influence of the world, and strife is not. There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as a nation being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right.

the teachers are like a large group of sculptors assigned to the difficult task of molding a form out of a pile of shapeless clay. They direct us to knowledge as a sculptor assigns clay to certain parts of his statue to shape its final form. If they succeed throughout the years, each graduating class leaves Abington Heights with sound values, solid thoughts and ideals, and a sense of responsibility. We think you have succeeded. Faculty

Mr. Bernard L. Yuban
Substitute speaker for Mr. James A. Linen

This Evening, I Am Sharing A Beginning. What I Have Seen And Heard Here Makes All The More Understandable Your Pride And Enthusiasm. The Concept, The Design And Construction, The Facilities And Curriculum . . . It is Truly Magnificent, And Exciting. You Do Indeed Have A Close Alliance With The Future."

"A place where students and teachers can lead approximately mature lives."

Bellante And Bellante Perform

Sponsored by the Student Council, the twin piano concert for the Eric Sussman Drive was a brilliant success. John and Carl Bellante held a full auditorium captive, and really proved themselves super talented.

Accepted. Rejected. That nervous vigil by the mailbox, waiting and hoping. There is little security in being a Senior, and your Yearbook Staff felt as uncertain as you did, waiting for the deliverance of your future. For the Class of '68, next year means Phase Two.

We Yearbook Editors closed our minds from anxiety and regressed to the days when it didn't really matter if your knees were dirty or your slip was hanging. For an hour we regained the old peace of mind. We really became grade school kids again—on the sliding board, the jungle gym, the swings. It felt great. Now we're ready for graduation and are excited about anything that may come in the years ahead. Let there be peace.
